A nonrefundable application fee of $40 must accompany your application.

Personal Statement

Each applicant must submit a personal statement as part of the admission process. The statement should emphasize the applicant's background, suitability for admission, or the reasons for undertaking legal studies. Applicants may write about personal characteristics and circumstances; strengths; work experiences; extracurricular activities; ethnic, economic, and educational background; or any other topic that will help the committee evaluate you. The personal statement may not exceed 550 words.

Letters of Recommendation

Each applicant must submit two letters of recommendation, preferably from college professors who can attest to your ability to enter a competitive professional program. If you have been out of school for a considerable period of time, letters from an employer also can be submitted. Recommenders can use either the form provided or their own letterhead.

Massachusetts School of Law

There are three options for submitting letters of recommendation:

1. MSLAW accepts letters sent directly to the school. The envelope must be sealed with the recommender's signature.
2. MSLAW accepts letters that are emailed directly to the Director of Admissions from the recommender.
3. MSLAW accepts letters via LSAC if applicant requests MSLAW to do so.

Official Transcripts

To be considered for admission to MSLAW, an applicant must hold a degree equivalent to a U.S. bachelor's degree. Transcripts from all undergraduate and graduate schools that the applicant has attended must be submitted to the Admissions Department. An applicant who received his or her degree from a college or university outside the United States must have his or her transcript evaluated by World Education Services (WES) or LSAC's Foreign Credential Evaluation Service.

Personal Interview and MSLAT

All applicants must take the Massachusetts School of Law Aptitude Test (MSLAT). This test replaces the traditional LSAT test. All applicants will take the test on the same day they have their personal interviews. The interview will take place first, and the test will be administered immediately following the interview. MSLAW faculty members will review the test and assess both technical writing and analytical skills. MSLAW also uses this test to determine if students meet the required English proficiency needed to complete their legal studies.
